Extras

Virginia Kee saw problems in her community and knew she could help. You can do the same!

Start by brainstorming ideas about problems in your school community in the box below.

-------------------------

Pick the problem that you feel most strongly about. Write it below and come up with something you and your friends can do to help fix this problem.

 Problem	 Solution

Finally, plan a way to educate others about this problem and your solution. Work to persuade others to join you in fixing this problem. You can create a poster, write a persuasive essay, record a podcast or short video - be creative!
